2L63 Dear Mr. Weisberg;

Could you send me info about your book? I heard you on the Mike Talk Show on WCAU in Philadelphia. I enjoyed your second appearance on this show because you were not interrupted and had a most interesting story. Also why not contact Mr. Ted Reinhardt Radio Station WPEN, 2212 Walnut St. Philadelphia. He produces a night time interview show on, I think a week from 11PM to 2AM

Respectfully

The City of London Police are easily distinguishable by their Roman type helmets, brass buttons and red and white chevrons. They are also well known for their physique for no man is accepted under 5'11" in height. The average height of the Force is in excess of 6'1". Members of the Force inherit a tradition as old as English history itself. They also police an area [illegible] in history, the actual Londinium of Roman times which as early as A.D.43 was known as a town of the highest repute.
